

MOLINE'S SECTION OF THE ARGUS

SOCIAL MEETING AT THE LINCOLN

Parents and Teachers Gather and Hear Interesting Addresses.

BENEFIT OF SCHOOL NURSE

New System Bound to Produce Excellent Results—Should Get More Use of Schools.

Approximately 200 parents of children who are pupils at the Lincoln school, were the guests last evening of the teachers at an informal reception, and heard Superintendent C. H. Maxson of the Moline public schools, and Miss Maude Morse, school nurse, discuss interesting topics of school life. Special emphasis was given by both speakers to the establishment in this city of the school nurse, and Superintendent Maxson stated that this move is bound to be productive of excellent results. Miss Morse told of the work she is doing in this line.

"The new high school building," declared Mr. Maxson, "will be completed and ready for occupancy the first part of next year, and then Moline will have an educational equipment valued at $1,000,000. However, we will be using this equipment only 180 days out of 365 in the year, and only from five to six hours each day. In order cities of the state and country, steps have been taken to improve this condition and get more out of the equipment for the money invested. A start has also been made in this city, but nothing of a definite nature has materialized as yet. In the state of New York they use the school buildings for political meetings, polling places, for social meetings, etc., and Moline would do well to use its schools for these purposes also. We occasionally have a social meeting but they are few and far between. Let's get the worth of our investment out of these expensive school buildings."

Mr. Maxson suggested that more social meetings be held in the school buildings, that the parents and teachers get together more often and discuss phases of educational work. He also stated that there should be no scruples against allowing the schools to be used as political meeting places and polling places. They are the property of the voters and tax payers, and should be used by them, according to Mr. Maxson.

Work of School Nurse.

In discussing the work of the school nurse, Miss Maude Morse, the superintendent, declared that the establishment of this system is one of the most noteworthy moves of the year in educational life in Moline. He declared that the children need care of this kind and can be taught how to get more out of their studies.

Miss Morse in her address, stated that she intends to teach the pupils how to take care of themselves. In the first place, she said, the teeth needed special care. The child should begin at the age of two years to care for its teeth and made to give them a cleaning at least two or three times every day. This requires but little work and is bound to produce results.

Another thing which acts as a detriment to the pupil, deadens his or her brain and makes them difficult to teach is the lack of sleep and fresh air, and the drinking of too much coffee. Every pupil should retire at an early hour, was the declaration made by Miss Morse, and they should get all of the fresh air possible. The drinking of coffee serves to deaden the nerves and the pupil is better off without it.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ITCHING IN ONE NIGHT

New York.—The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched and I began to scratch it. It itched so that sometimes I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. I used ———— and ————, but they did not seem to help me. This went on for six or seven months. Then I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. I used them one night. In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth.—(Signed) Miss Celia Kleinman, 61 Columbia St., April 20, 1913.

Nothing we can say of Resinol equals what others, such as Miss Kleinman, say of it. It does its work quickly, easily and at little cost. If you are suffering from skin trouble, why don't you try Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. For trial size, free, write to Dept. KK, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all druggists.

Miss Morse urged the parents to see that their children take proper care of themselves in the above respects. She said that she is sending out to all the parents who have children in school, sets of instructions regarding the care of the child, and she urged the mothers to heed these instructions if they would have their children bright scholars.

NEW FEATURES AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Miss Kohler, the city librarian, announces several new features for the year. Among them is the circulation of pictures to schools, clubs or individuals. In the summer time before camping, pictures of poison ivy and of mushrooms will be distributed so as to protect the camper from these dangers. Pictures of our national parks will also be distributed to those people about to travel. These pictures are natural colored plates and may be obtained in the same way as books are now got from the library.

For those interested in foreign news, there are several foreign publications, among which are three Swedish papers, Nordisk Tidskrift, Idun, and Aller's Family Journal, one German paper, Gartenbaube, several newspapers from Australia, and one fully illustrated magazine with war news direct from London. The children's room, which has been an attractive feature of the library, will be managed a little differently in regard to the hours of opening and closing. The room has been formerly opened at 10 a. m., and closed at 8 p. m. except on Saturdays, when it has been kept open until 9 o'clock.

The following is a list of special books just received at the library:

Burbank, Luther: His Methods and Discoveries and Their Practical Application.

There are only three volumes of these works printed and to those interested in agriculture these books are invaluable.

Hough's American Woods: For those working in wood this book is a good sample of the various woods in this country.

Uniform of the Army of the United States From 1774 to 1889. This book is fully illustrated in colors and is very interesting.

The library always obtains the congressional record each day while congress is in session.

CONGREGATIONALISTS TRY TO RAISE $1,000

In an effort to raise about $1,000 for mission work, both home and foreign, members of the First Congregational church have inaugurated a campaign which will be conducted along a systematic line. A committee consisting of 20 women and 20 men, all members of the church, has been appointed to make a canvass of all members of the church to secure subscriptions. In addition to this subscription cards have been mailed out to all members with a request that they give something if possible. These cards are to be turned in at the services next Sunday morning.

DEALERS AND SALESMEN INSPECT MOLINE PLANT

Twenty-six Michigan dealers and seven traveling men of the John Deere plow company returned to their homes last evening in that state after a four days' visit in this city at the local plant of the company. The party was conducted through the factories.

LOCAL FIRE DEPARTMENT IS NOW FULLY EQUIPPED

With the delivery today of the Velle motor hose car for the No. 3 station, the Moline fire department is fully equipped with the single exception of the aerial truck, which is due early next month. City commissioners are members of the fire department made an official test today of the new car and found it satisfactory.

MOLINE WILL USE MONEY TURNED IN BY SPEEDERS

Moline will keep the money collected in fines from speeders during the past few months, for use in improving the streets, according to word given out today by the city commission. Floyd Thompson, state's attorney, demanded that the city turn the money over to him to be used for county purposes, according to law, but an investigation of the supreme court ruling in the matter shows that the money can be kept here for improvement of the streets.

LODGE NOTES

Automobile lodge, No. 924, I. O. O. F., held semiannual installation of officers last evening. George Stange, district deputy grand master, acting as installing officer.

At a meeting of the Moline lodge of Elks last evening, the Big Brother movement recently inaugurated by the Order of Elks, was discussed, and local members plan to take up the work here.

It would be interesting to know how much the shortage of 2,000,000 pairs of shoes revealed by a French senator shortly before the war has helped the Germans to fend off any flanking movements to the north. Shoes come next to food and weapons in importance.

PRIDE IS COSTLY TO DAVENPORTER

William McCullough Races With Ford Car and Is Arrested for Speeding.

William McCullough's pride in his Ford automobile cost him $12.05 in police court this morning. He is a Davenport man and came to this city on business yesterday afternoon. As he was returning home along Third avenue in Moline, another car carrying but a single occupant, passed him. This was too much for the Davenport, and soon he overtook the stranger. Accepting the challenge, the stranger put on speed and soon the two cars were traveling through the atmosphere at a rate of speed which would have made Barney Oldfield green with envy in his palmist days.

At about this juncture of the game Motorcycle Cop Pleasant Negley entered the race unbidden. He traveled faster than did Mr. McCullough in the Ford and soon overtook him, arrested him and returned with his catch to the Moline police station. The stranger, who was in a larger car, put on more speed and managed to cross the line into Rock Island. His identity is not known.

When arraigned before Magistrate Frank Gustafson, Mr. McCullough admitted that he was going at a 40-mile rate and paid the usual fine of $12.05. Another speeder was arrested last night, E. J. Holston, garage owner of Woodhull. He paid the usual fine of $12.05.

SILVIS

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Thomas Crawford very delightfully entertained the members and friends of the Reading and Crescent Embroidery club. The afternoon passed quickly and pleasantly in crescent embroidery work and general sociability. Later a literary program preceded a nice luncheon.

Mrs. Mary Phelps visited friends in Mercy hospital, Davenport, Saturday. City Marshal W. E. Hopson was called upon to shoot a valuable watch dog belonging to Mr. Phelps of Sixth street last Sunday. The animal lately had become very dangerous and had bitten several persons.

Mrs. George McKinley threw open the doors of her home for the entertainment of the members and friends of the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church last Wednesday afternoon. Sewing and general sociability made the time pass quickly and pleasantly and later the hostess served a delightful repast. It was a very pleasant and profitable meeting.

PAIR OF BOOTS SAVE HIS LIFE

Simon Barber and His Fireman Near Death When Trolley Wire Breaks.

Simon Barber, an employee of the Moline Heating and Construction company, has a pair of rubber boots which he will doubtless keep as an heirloom for the remainder of his days. These boots were instrumental in the saving of Barber's life when he came in contact with a live trolley wire which had fallen into the street at the corner of Seventh street and Sixteenth avenue, East Moline.

Barber was driving a traction engine, and upon crossing the tracks the smoke stack came in contact with the trolley wire at the same instant as the iron wheels of the engine struck the tracks. This resulted in the formation of a perfect circuit, the trolley melting in an instant through the terrific heat of the electricity, while it sputtered sparks in all directions.

At the same time the wheels at the point of contact with the tracks became red hot. Barber, who was sitting in the machine, wore a pair of rubber boots, and felt a sudden shock as the huge voltage passed through his engine. For several moments afterward Mr. Barber states that his nerves were tingling. The fireman of the engine was standing on a wooden platform at the time, and thus escaped injury. Had both men been in contact with the iron parts and had Barber not worn rubber boots, it is probable that they would both have been either seriously injured or killed. Traffic on the interurban line was halted for some time as a result of the broken trolley.

CARBON CLIFF

Disquieting as are the slides in the Culebra cut of the Panama canal, it must be remembered that, when the waterway was opened to ships, the understanding was that more slides were to be anticipated from time to time. Colonel Goethals has not claimed that all danger had passed in this respect. Work must continue for months at that point; it may be several years, in fact, before the peril from earth slides will have been wholly eliminated, unless, in the meantime, the mountain slides are cut away for long distances along the banks of the waterway. Yet one cannot help asking what bombs thrown from aircraft might do toward starting the slides in the region where the hills are so lacking in equilibrium.

GALESBURG BOYS SENT BACK HOME

Two Small Lads Run Away and Find Hobo Life Not to Their Liking.

Arthur Knutson, aged 14 years, and Floyd Hogan, aged 12 years, were sent back to their anxious parents in Galesburg today, after a week's experience as hoboes which they do not care to repeat. The two boys left their homes about a week ago and journeyed northward, walking, and securing whatever they could to eat along the way. They reached East Moline yesterday morning and found the police on the lookout for them. They were immediately arrested and today were shipped back to Galesburg. They were glad to get home and do not plan on leaving soon again.

Eighteenth Century Tips.

The tips or "vails" of the eighteenth century were by no means confined to nuns. One traveler through this country, La Blanc, says that, after dining with a friend, "you'll find all the servants drawn up in the passage like a file of musketeers from the house steward down to the lowest livery servant, and each of them holds out his hand to you in as deliberate a manner as the servants in our inns on the like occasion." The master of the house turned his head away, pretending not to be aware of what was going forward. Lord Harvey records that George II's queen thought it necessary to give vails in town as well as in the country, but the king told her she was a fool to do so.—London Standard.
